2. Describe 3 differences between the myth(s) on which the film is based and the original source.
3. Is the film/TV show a good adaptation? Why/Why not?
(being just like the original doesn't always make a good adaptation. Sometimes it is the meaning and the emotion of the story that counts, the kind of characters, the overall impression. How does the film do in re-creating that?)
4. What ideas/ themes from the original myth show up again in the film? Give examples to support your statement.
